MODE OF DELIVERY: Online, Asynchronous.

DATE RANGE: Jul 06, 2020 - August 08, 2020.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course is designed to introduce non-economists to the economics of the environment and natural resource use. We will cover the topics of external costs and benefits, public goods, sustainability, natural resource management, non-market valuation, and behavioral economics and the environment. Topics will be presented in the context of specific applications and policies. Course meetings will be divided into lecture and discussion components, with the discussion following the lecture and providing a chance to examine examples and applications of material covered in the lecture. Prerequisites: Basic algebra skills.

TEXTBOOK: Economics and the Environment, Eight Edition. 2017. Eban Goodstein (Bard College) and Stephen Polasky (University of Minnesota). Wiley, Hoboken, NJ.

COURSE GRADING: Grades in this course will be determined by the results of three lecture exams and a number of online quizzes. Weighting of these activities will be as follows:

Exam 1	25%
Exam 2	25%
Final Exam	25%
Average score of online quizzes	25%
TOTAL	100%

Final scores in the course will be calculated based on the percentage grade earned on each of the course activities listed above, multiplied by the weighting listed for each activity. Letter grades will be assigned based on the final course scores as follows:

- A+ = 97-100%
- A = 93 - 96%
- A- = 90 - 92%
- B+ = 87 - 89%
- B = 83 - 86%
- B- = 80 - 82%
- C+ = 77 - 79%
- C = 73 - 76%
- C- = 70 - 72%
- D = 60 - 69%
- F = 0 - 59%

PLEASE NOTE THAT I DO NOT ROUND UP. FOR EXAMPLE, AN 89.99 IS A B+ AND IT WILL NOT BE ROUNDED UP TO AN A-.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: GMU students, faculty and staff are bound by the GMU Honor Code. Adherence to the GMU Honor Code is expected of all students, specifically:

Members of the George Mason University community pledge not to cheat, plagiarize, steal, or lie in matters related to academic work.

In all assignments and communications, plagiarism will not be tolerated. This applies equally to oral and written communications in the context of any evaluated (graded) course assignments. As stated in the Honor Code, infractions may result in invalidated credit for dishonorable work and lowered grade, including failure from the class, suspension or dismissal. Inquiries for clarification from the professor are welcome. For more information see the complete Honor Code in the university catalog.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR DISABILITIES: If you have a documented learning disability or other condition that may affect academic performance you should: 1) make sure this documentation is on file with the Office of Disability Services (SUB I, Rm. 4205; 993-2474; <http://ds.gmu.edu>) to determine the accommodations you need; and 2) give copies of your disability documentation to your instructors so we may discuss your accommodation needs.

DIGITAL COMMUNICATION: Students must use their MasonLive email account to receive important University information, including communications related to this class. I will not respond to messages sent from or send messages to a non-Mason email address.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT: George Mason University promotes a living and learning environment for outstanding growth and productivity among its students, faculty and staff. Through its curriculum, programs, policies, procedures, services and resources, Mason strives to maintain a quality environment for work, study and personal growth. An emphasis upon diversity and inclusion throughout the campus community is essential to achieve these goals. Diversity is broadly defined to include such characteristics as, but not limited to, race, ethnicity, gender, religion, age, disability, and sexual orientation. Diversity also entails different viewpoints, philosophies, and perspectives. Attention to these aspects of diversity will help promote a culture of inclusion and belonging, and an environment where diverse opinions, backgrounds and practices have the opportunity to be voiced, heard and respected.
