Climate change and Harmful Algal Blooms (HABs) are both increasing threats to freshwater ecosystems worldwide. This class will allow students to learn about the state of knowledge in these two areas through literature, discussions and presentations including:

• Modeling studies of climate change impacts including mixing regimes and food chain disruptions
• Ecology of harmful algae
• Monitoring and detection of biotoxins
• Management and mitigation