Maximizing subgraph density by double counting

Rachel Kirsch, George Mason University, Fairfax, VA – 22030

Abstract

This talk will highlight the use of the method of counting in two ways in recent research on maximizing subgraph density in graphs of bounded degree and clique number.

Keywords: subgraph, clique number.