

GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

Department of Geography & Geoinformation Science
Fall Semester 2021

MAJOR WORLD REGIONS GGS 101 – 003 Course Syllabus

Instructor: Ian S. Ward
Office: Exploratory Hall, Room 2222
Office Hours: By appointment only:
conducted online via Blackboard Collaborate

Class Location: Planetary Hall, 131
Meeting Time: 12pm -1:15pm TR

Email: iward@gmu.edu

Course Overview:

This course is designed as an introduction to the discipline of geography while providing the student an overview of the world's major regions as defined by their physical and cultural characteristics. It is also intended to present critical geographic concepts associated with applying a spatial perspective to understanding the world. The focus will be on developing a new frame of reference for integrating information in spatial terms.

Course Objectives: Based upon the readings, lecture notes, and independent study, students will be able to:

- 1) define a region;
- 2) describe world regions in terms of physical characteristics such as climate or landforms;
- 3) describe world regions in terms of cultural characteristics such as language or religion;
- 4) explain specific geographic concepts such as climate regions, or culture hearths;
- 5) and demonstrate how these concepts help explain regional differences and spatial patterns of distribution.

Mason Core: This course fulfills the Mason Core requirement in Global Understanding.

Safe Return to Campus:

All students taking this course are required to take Safe Return to Campus Training prior to visiting campus. Training is available in Blackboard (<https://mymason.gmu.edu>). Students are required to follow the university's public health and safety precautions and procedures outlined on the university Safe Return to Campus webpage (www2.gmu.edu/safe-return-plan). Similarly, all students in face-to-face and hybrid courses must also complete the Mason COVID Health Check daily, seven days a week. The COVID Health Check system uses a color code system and students will receive either a Green, Yellow, or Red email response. Only students who receive a "green" notification are permitted to attend courses with a face-to-face component. If you suspect that you are sick or have been directed to self-isolate, please quarantine or get testing. Faculty are allowed to ask you to show them that you have received a Green email and are thereby permitted to be in class.

Text: 1) Nijman, Shin, and Muller, Geography: Realms, Regions, and Concepts, 18th edition, Wiley & Sons.
2) National Geographic Concise Atlas of the World. 4th edition.

Student Requirements:

To successfully complete this course, students must complete all assigned readings and exercises, watch all recorded lecture material posted to Blackboard, and attend scheduled lectures on campus; neither the textbook, lecture notes, or lecture recordings alone will suffice. During our meetings, students are encouraged to participate in class discussion, but may also be called upon at any time to offer their comments and views on class topics. If any meetings are conducted online, students are asked to turn on their cameras so as to be seen.

Basic Course Technology Requirements:

Recorded lectures, assignments, office-hours, and communication of class information will regularly use the Blackboard learning system, available at <https://mymason.gmu.edu>. Students are required to have regular, reliable access to a computer with an updated operating system (recommended: Windows 10 or Mac OSX 10.13 or higher) and a stable broadband Internet connection (cable modem, DSL, satellite broadband, etc., with a consistent 1.5 Mbps [megabits per second] download speed or higher. You can check your speed settings using the speed test on this website.) While exams will be administered in class, map exercises will be delivered and completed through Blackboard. To ensure a 'problem-free' experience, it is HIGHLY recommended that you use Firefox or Google Chrome as your Internet browser. Experience has shown occasional issues with Safari, but migration to Chrome has significantly helped students successfully navigate Blackboard activities. I'm told Firefox is even better... a platform that is available through free download from the Web.

Examinations and Examination Policies:

- 1) Three examinations, plus a Final Exam, will be administered during the course of the semester (see attached schedule for dates). Only your top 2 scores from the FIRST 3 exams will be recorded. A mandatory Comprehensive Final will be given at the end of the semester. This last grade will count toward your overall score and will not be considered for elimination.
- 2) All exams will be conducted in class with students using SCANTRON® forms. Examinations will be constructed around True / False and Multiple Choice questions. Students will be expected to come to class with a #2 pencil and a clean, unfolded SCANTRON® answer sheet (available in our campus bookstore). Damaged answer sheets will not be accepted. Note: Please purchase only the green and white SCANTRON® forms (Form No. 882-E)
- 3) Exams begin and end as indicated in the class schedule: No additional time for late arrivals.
- 4) NO MAKEUP EXAMS WILL BE GIVEN. Remember, you may drop one exam, so if during the semester you find yourself in a situation that will preclude you from taking one of the regular semester exams, you may choose that exam as the one you drop.
- 5) Start times for those students arriving late will not be adjusted.
- 6) THE FINAL EXAM WILL NOT BE ADMINISTERED EARLY OR LATER; please plan ahead.
- 7) No books or notes of any kind (hardcopy or electronic) may be used during any examination in this class. Cell phones must be turned OFF at all times.
- 8) Hats with bills or rims that obstruct your eyes cannot be worn during in-class examinations.
- 9) Once your exams have been graded and handed back to you, please retain them for your records. Do not lose track of them until after your final grade has been posted.
- 10) Please schedule to meet with me on BB Collaborate if you would like to discuss any of the material that was covered on the exams.

Academic Integrity:

Academic integrity is essential and each individual is expected to do his or her own work; violations of the University Honor Code will not be tolerated and will result in course failure. A description of the University Honor Code is available for review in the University Catalog and on our class Blackboard page.

Campus Classroom Expectations:

- 1) MASKS covering both nose and mouth must be worn at all times indoors. This is in accordance with guidance from the CDC and University Policy 1415.

- 2) SOCIAL DISTANCING should be observed as much as possible.
- 3) NO LAPTOPS or TABLETS or PHONES are to be used by students during lecture. Digital copies of most lecture slides shown in class will be made available for printing the evening before each class. These should be supplemented with traditional hand-written notes. (Please see FAQs for further explanation.)
- 4) CELL PHONES must be SILENCED and put away before class begins.
- 5) NO TEXTING, which is obvious given expectation #3 and #4. I want your full and undivided attention. This also means that if you need to sleep, stay at home.
- 6) BE ON TIME - Students are expected to be on time for class. Should circumstances arise that make you late, do not disrupt the class as you enter; take the first seat available in the room. Make sure to maintain social distancing.
- 7) NO CHIT-CHAT during lecture. If you have a question or comment, please raise your hand.
- 8) KEEP THE ROOM CLEAN. If you pack it in, pack it out; leave your seat better than you found it.
- 9) GET INVOLVED – Whether or not you’ve had personal experiences abroad, you will undoubtedly have questions, comments, and maybe some personal experiences that you’ll want to share during the semester. We want to hear from you. If you are hesitant about asking a question in class, that’s ok, but do not discard the question. Send me an email, or share it with me during an office hour meeting.

Note Taking:

- In-class lectures will be accompanied by the use of electronic slides, maps, and photographs. You are not required—nor is it necessary—to copy the contents of these slides word-for-word, but it is strongly recommended that you take good notes during lecture. Most slides will be made available on Blackboard for students to print the evening before each class. These PDF documents will include room for students to take some notes. However, please keep in mind that not every slide will be included in these sets. Students having concerns or questions about the class material are encouraged to set up an online appointment with me during office hours. Online instruction will occasionally be provided through recorded lectures on Blackboard. Note taking is highly encouraged during these instructional videos.
- If at any point during my in-class lectures you feel that I am changing slides too fast, please let me know and I will slow down.

Map Exercises:

Two Map Exercises (250 points) will be assigned during the semester. The exercises will be made available on Blackboard at least two weeks prior to the due date. Due dates can be found on the semester schedule located at the end of this syllabus. Students are to work through the questions and then provide their answers via a link on Blackboard. You must use the National Geographic Concise Atlas of the World, 4th edition to complete the exercises.

Late Policy on Map Exercises:

There is a maximum of a one-week extension with a minimum of a two letter-grade deduction beginning at the time the assignment is due. To receive the highest credit possible, assignments must be turned-in on time. It is best to begin work on assignments as soon as possible to allow yourself plenty of time to prepare a well-researched product. These exercises are not meant to be difficult, but they do require a bit of thought, time, and effort. I would be happy to meet online with any students who are having difficulty with any of the questions.

Course Material and Student Privacy :

All course material posted to Blackboard is private to this class and may NOT be distributed to anyone outside of this course. In addition, as stated by Federal law, any materials that identify specific students (via their name, voice, or image) must NOT be shared with anyone not enrolled in this class.

- Video recordings — whether made by instructors or students — of class meetings that include audio, visual, or textual information from other students are private and must not be shared outside the class
- Live video conference meetings on Blackboard Collaborate that include audio, textual, or visual information from other students must be viewed privately and not shared with others in your household or recorded and shared outside the class.
- Instructional videos are not to be shared publicly online and are the property of the instructor.

Students must use their MasonLive email account to receive important University information, including messages related to this class. See <http://masonlive.gmu.edu> for more information.

Disability Accommodations:

If you are a student with a disability and you need academic accommodations, please see me and contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) at 993-2474, <http://ods.gmu.edu>. All academic accommodations must be arranged through the ODS.

Possibility of Campus Closure:

If the campus closes or class is canceled due to weather, health concerns, or other reasons, students should check Blackboard [or other instruction as appropriate] for updates on how to continue learning and information about any changes to events or assignments.

Grading Scheme and Policy:

Your combined score of the following will determine your grade in this course:

Exam I	————→	25%	=	250 points	} (only the 2 best scores counted)
Exam II	————→	25%	=	250 points
Exam III	————→	25%	=	250 points
Final Exam	————→	25%	=	250 points	} (mandatory)
1 st Map Exercise (home)	————→	12%	=	120 points
2 nd Map Exercise (home)	————→	13%	=	130 points
			=	1,000 points

Point Translation:

Frequently Asked Questions

Is this a hard class?

Like any class, this all depends on how much effort you put into it. It's not designed to be difficult, but it can easily become so if you skip on class attendance, assigned readings and recordings, and making time for studying your notes. Please see me as soon as possible if you think you are having trouble with understanding any of the material in the class.

I have never taken a geography course in my life. Will I be at a disadvantage?

Not necessarily, though any previous exposure to geography can only help. This is meant to be an introductory course, though those who are new to geography may need to spend a little more time studying throughout the semester. I am committed to working closely with each of you to get you up to speed, no matter your prior level of knowledge.

Why does the class not cover East and South Asia?

Because of the time constraints of the semester, this particular section of World Regional Geography will be concentrating on Europe, Africa, Southwest Asia, the Americas, and the Australia / Pacific realm. Other sections of the course being taught at GMU will cover East and South Asia, but may not cover some of the areas addressed in this section.

I have a disability and need extra assistance. What do I need to do?

If you have a documented learning disability or other condition that may affect academic performance, you should (1) make sure this documentation is on file with Disability Services (SUB I, Rm. 4205; 993-2474; <http://ds.gmu.edu>) to determine the testing accommodations you need; and (2) talk with me to discuss how we can coordinate on this. In addition, you may also find that coming to my office hours will help, especially with going over lecture material together.

Why can't I use my laptop, tablet, or phone in class?

In my years of teaching, I have found that electronic devices often become a major distraction, not only for those around the students using them, but for the users themselves who are often tempted to explore the wonderful World Wide Web... where Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, etc... seem to be popular watering holes. Sketching maps and diagrams, something that you'll be doing frequently in class, is often impossible to do on these computers. Eye contact between student, instructor, and the main classroom screen quickly evaporates as attention is focused on personal computing devices. I don't want this to happen. I'll be providing you with copies of most of the slides you'll be seeing in class, so having a paper notebook and a pen in front of you to take a few supporting notes is all you need. I'm aware that it often takes longer to write notes than to type them, and I make time accommodations for this during my lectures.

Do I need to bring my book to every class?

No, I don't expect this. However, some students find it useful to do so because it allows them to use the maps and illustrations in the book during the lectures. If you find that you're having trouble understanding where these different geographic regions are, bringing the highly illustrated book to class might be something you'll want to consider.

Do you offer Extra Credit?

Generally speaking, no. However, the exception is that there will often be 2 or 3 extra credit questions at the end of each exam related to the areas of the world that are covered in those particular exams.

Why can I not use my Yahoo account to contact you with questions?

Students MUST use their MasonLive email account to receive important University information, including communications related to this class. I will not respond to messages sent from... or send messages to... a non-Mason email address. I have specifically been instructed by the University administration to abide by this to preserve student privacy.

How do we know if class is cancelled?

In the event that class is cancelled I will try to let you know as far in advance as possible. I will do this as an in-class announcement (time permitting), and (or) via Blackboard.

What if I am sick and miss an exam?

There are no make-up exams allowed in the class. However, each student is allowed to drop one regular semester exam during the course. Either take all three semester exams and we'll drop the lowest grade (highly recommended), or, if a situation arises, skip one of the exams. Keep in mind that unlike the 3 regular semester exams, the Final Exam is mandatory.

I'm starting my vacation early this year and will not be around for the Final Exam. Can I make it up?

Unfortunately, we cannot accommodate this. The Final Exam date is listed in the syllabus and is fixed by the university, so please plan accordingly. Students may consider joining another section of the class early in the semester that may have a Final Exam date that is more conducive to your travel plans.

What if I need to leave early in the middle of class?

I understand that sometimes people have prior engagements. I simply ask that students let me know before class that they'll be leaving before class ends.

Do you curve grades?

No. The average grade in the class typically ranges from a low to middle "B".

When mid-semester grades are posted, we will have taken only one exam. However, the syllabus says that we can drop one exam in our final course evaluation. How then is our mid-semester grade handled?

While it is true that one regular semester exam is dropped in your final evaluation, the grade from the first exam must be used in the calculation of your mid-semester grade. NOTE: The mid-semester grade does NOT go on your permanent record... rather it is used as a benchmark to give students an idea of where they stand academically halfway through the semester. Because of the way this particular class is structured, mid-semester grades (required by the University) can be a bit misleading. A student who fails the first exam, (perhaps by simply choosing not to take the exam), but who goes on to do well on everything else, could very well end up earning an "A" for their final grade. This is despite their mid-semester grade equating to an "F". With that said, mid-semester grades often serve as a wake-up call to some and suggest that changes in study habits are necessary. Please see me if you have additional questions or concerns regarding mid-semester grades.

Some professors get upset at texting in class. What is your policy?

Yes, I do get upset. Please do not text during class. I want your undivided attention the same way I would have it if we were meeting one-on-one.

I see that you require the 18th edition of the textbook. Can I get by with the 16th or 17th edition?

Yes, but it might be slightly more difficult for you to follow the class. Page numbers that I mention in class will be different, as will some of the material that I cite in my lectures. Clearly, the information in the older edition will not be the most current available, and some of the topics I cover may not be addressed in the book. With that said, an early edition may be the most economically viable option for you. If you do go this route, keep in mind that I always have a copy of the 18th edition in my office, so you are always welcome to schedule a time to stop by and look at it if you want to compare information or read through sections you may not have.

I already have an atlas at home. Do I really need the exact one specified in the syllabus to complete the map exercises?

Yes. There are a number of questions in the exercises that require analysis of thematic information that is uniquely displayed in this book.

You mentioned that you have office hours by appointment only. How do I do that?

The best way to schedule an appointment is to simply send me an email with a proposed time. Please keep in mind that I have a full-time position off campus, so meeting during the middle of the day during the workweek might be difficult for me. Regardless, send me a proposed time and I'll see if I can arrange it. If not, I'll respond back to you with alternative times that might work well for both of us.

What if I'm sick?

Don't come to class. I'd be happy to meet with you online during virtual office hours to go over the material that you missed in class. Also, please take advantage of the material that I've provided for you on Blackboard. There are no make-up exams in this class, so if you miss one of the regular semester exams, we'll just drop that exam. There is no penalty for missing one of the first three exams as we'll only be counting two of the grades.

Why do I need to turn my camera on when we meet online?

As an instructor, it is extremely helpful to see students when I'm speaking with them. I promise that I will never make any editorial comments on messy bedrooms.

I really enjoy the material we discuss in class and would like to study it more, but I'm already pursuing another major. Does Mason offer a minor in Geography?

Absolutely! Whether you want to earn a minor in Geography to compliment your existing major, or you want to change your major to Geography, I'd be delighted to put you in touch with the right people to facilitate this. Becoming a Geography major was the best decision I ever made, and I'll do whatever I can to help those who want to try either a major or minor in this amazing discipline.
